Gerry Wedd

Gerry Wedd lives in South Australia. He is a surfer and a self-described potter whose initial forays into making came from watching his mother make pots on the kitchen table. Wedd's career has been centred around ceramics practice for forty years. During this time he has made work that refers to, reflects upon, and is embedded within, both the history and materiality of ceramics. His practice has incorporated making domestic ware for daily use, large-scale works for both exhibition and public art works, and projects, working with schools and community groups. Wedd has a Degree in Visual Arts and a Masters in Fine Art (Research) from UNISA (2005). From 1986 until 2006, Wedd was a core artist producing drawings and graphics for surf label Mambo.

Wedd has exhibited extensively and regularly in Australia and internationally including INTEGRATION AND RESISTENCE IN THE GLOBAL AGE in the 2010 Havana Biennial, Australia-Korea International Invitational in 2015 and The Victoria and Albert Museum in 1989. In 2018 Wedd was awarded the ACE Open Commission where he built and tiled a room interior in the gallery. He was the recipient of the Hobart Art Prize in 2010 and the 1998 Sidney Myer Fund International Ceramics Award and was a finalist in the Basil Sellers Art Prize for Sport in 2014. In 2023, he has shown at Galerie Zink in Germany.

Wedd's work is in the collections of Gold Coast City Art Gallery, Tasmanian Museum and Art Gallery, Coffs Harbour Regional Gallery, Newcastle Regional Gallery, Artbank, University of Wollongong, SAMSTAG Art Museum, Australian National Gallery, Manly City Art Gallery, Australian National Gallery, VCA Gallery - Margaret Lawrence Australian Ceramic Collection, Melbourne Maritime Museum, Shepparton Art Gallery, La Trobe University, Art Gallery of South Australia, Queensland University Collection, Powerhouse Museum and National Gallery Victoria.
